

iGolf Subscriber Frequently Asked Questions

The World Handicap System® and what it is.

Developed by The R&A and USGA in collaboration with pre-existing handicap bodies, the WHS™ is a single, consistent measure of playing ability that calculates a golfer's Handicap Index® in the same way regardless of their location in the world, and gives golfers of all abilities a more unified and inclusive experience in the sport. Since its launch in January 2020 the system is close to being fully adopted worldwide, with England Golf rolling the WHS out in November 2020 to around 1,800 golf clubs across England and to non-club members from July 2021 through iGolf.

TOP 10 FAQ'S:

Q1: Who can verify my score and why does my score need to be verified?

All rounds must be verified by a marker/fellow player who is either an iGolf Subscriber or a member of a club affiliated to England Golf with access to the MyEG app. Handicap procedures relating to the MyEG app align to the Rules of Handicapping with procedures in place to protect the integrity of the World Handicap System™ (WHS™). Guidance on using the MyEG app for score verification can be found here

Q2: Why does my score card need to be created before my round at the course?

When submitting a score for handicapping, a golfer needs to create a score intent. This is done by creating a scorecard and pre-registering a round on the MyEG app. By creating a scorecard, you are confirming your intent to submit a score for handicap purposes and this must be done prior to starting your round.

Geo-location technology ensures you can only create a scorecard (create a score intent) when you are in close proximity to the course where the round will take place. Whilst scorecard submission can be completed elsewhere, we recommend this is done straight after your round. Handicap procedures relating to the MyEG app align to the Rules of Handicapping with procedures in place to protect the integrity of the World Handicap System.

Q3: What is score intent?

When you create a scorecard via the MyEG app, you also create an intent to submit a score for handicap purposes. This means a score must then be submitted. This is in place to stop golfers handpicking scores for their playing record, which could manipulate their Handicap Index. When a score is not submitted or verified, a player may receive a penalty score.

Q4: I'm a member of a golf club affiliated to England Golf, can I join iGolf?

iGolf is only open to non-club members, this includes all types of membership. If you are paying an affiliation fee to England Golf you can already access the MyEG app and personal liability insurance as a benefit of being an affiliated member. Your golf club can provide you with a Handicap Index® along with many other benefits, so there is no benefit or need to join iGolf. For full details on eligibility to join iGolf, view our Terms & Conditions here

Q5: What do I do if I have selected the wrong course or tees?

If you have incorrectly selected a course or tees, you can delete your scorecard by swiping right. You can then make the correct selection. Please ensure you check this before starting your round. If you spot an error once you have started your round, please submit your score, and then contact igolf@englandgolf.org to see if this can be amended. Guidance on using the MyEG app for score verification can be found here

Q6: How do I submit international scores?

Scores from outside of England, can be returned to igolf@englandgolf.org for handicap purposes. For more information on what is required to return, please see the Handicap Procedures relating to iGolf which can be downloaded from here Please note, only scores submitted via the app from affiliated courses in England (inc Isle of Man and Channel Islands) can be used to obtain your initial Handicap Index.

Q7: Can I submit historic scores?

For previous golf club members, any scores previously recorded on the World Handicap System will transfer automatically with your membership number, providing scores are on your playing record from 1st January 2018.

For those golfers who haven't previously had a playing record on the World Handicap System, scores recorded prior to having an iGolf Subscription (historic scores) cannot count towards your Handicap Index as they have not followed the required procedures.

Q8: What are 'non-counting scores'?

Your Handicap Index is calculated from the best 8 scores out of 20. The other 12 scores would be classed as non-counting as they are not used to calculate your Handicap Index.

Any scores, that are not used in the calculation of your Handicap Index, are flagged as "non counting" (displayed as orange dots) and those that are within the calculation are flagged as "counting" (displayed as green dots)

When you reach 20 scores an average of the best 8 are used and referred to as "counting".

Q9: What if I do not have 20 scores?

Your Handicap Index will be calculated using a percentage on your current scores. Please view page 49 of the Rules of Handicapping for a table which further explains this scale.

Q10: What if I cannot remember my previous membership/CDH number when signing up to iGolf?

Please contact your previous golf club for this number or email igolf@englandgolf.org It is essential this is inputted so that we can transfer your previous playing record and Handicap Index and you do not end up with a duplicate record on the World Handicap System.

SECTION 1 - BECOMING AN iGOLF SUBSCRIBER

Q: What is my membership number?

Your unique membership number is 10 digits long and will generally start with '10'. You will be allocated this lifelong membership number upon joining iGolf.

If you have previously been a member of a golf club you will not need a new number when joining iGolf. Your previous membership number remains attached to your record and will be re-instated along with your previous scoring record and Handicap Index, if this is available. Likewise, if you move from iGolf into club membership you will retain this number. Please note; this number was formerly known as a CDH number.

Once you have joined, you can find your membership number on the MyEG app or iGolf web platform once logged in, or on your iGolf welcome email.

If you previously had a membership number and are now unsure of this, please contact your previous golf club for details. Alternatively, you can contact us at igolf@englandgolf.org

Q: Who is iGolf open to?

iGolf is open to golfers who are non-club members and who have not held a membership of a golf club affiliated to England Golf in the six months prior to an application to join iGolf. Please note this includes all types of golf club membership.

For further details on eligibility please view the iGolf Terms & Conditions.

As the World Handicap System allows professional golfers to hold a Handicap Index, professional golfers can join iGolf, providing they meet all other eligibility requirements. Any Professional joining is asked to notify the iGolf team at igolf@englandgolf.org with their membership number so this can be added to their membership record.

Q: I was previously a club member, can I join iGolf?

Previous golf club members may join iGolf once they have been left golf club membership for a period of six months prior to an iGolf application being made.

The exception to this would be if an affiliated golf club closed-down or dis-affiliated from England Golf in the previous six-month period. Where this is the case, please contact igolf@englandgolf.org for details on how to proceed.

During the online registration process, we carry out eligibility checks to determine the date a golfer's previous membership came to an end on the World Handicap System platform.

Q: I left my club over six months ago, but the system won't let me register?

If you left a golf club more than six months ago and are prevented from proceeding with the online registration process, please contact igolf@englandgolf.org. You may need to provide us with evidence from your previous club on when your membership expired. For further details view the iGolf Terms & Conditions.

Q: As a previous club member, how can I re-instate my Handicap Index®?

Your Handicap Index and playing record is attached to your unique membership number (formerly known as CDH number). Providing you have a record on the World Handicap System platform and there are scores available from 1 January 2018, then you will be able to re-activate your Handicap Index. Without providing your unique membership number upon registration, you will be unable to transfer your playing history and Handicap Index.

Q: Why do I need to wait six months from leaving a club to joining iGolf?

iGolf has been designed to appeal to independent golfers, who for whatever reason, are seeking an alternative offer to club membership, but still want the opportunity to access a Handicap Index®.

In collaboration with our stakeholders, there are certain eligibility clauses within our Terms & Conditions which have been put in place. This includes a 6-month time period between a golfer leaving a golf club and joining iGolf. Whilst a golfer is unable to join iGolf during this period, you can continue to play golf and once this time period has passed, you will be able to join iGolf and immediately re-activate your lifelong membership number, your previous Handicap Index and playing record.

You cannot be an iGolf Subscriber and a club member. Please note, no refunds are issued when a subscriber moves into golf club membership during their 12-month iGolf subscription period.

Q: If I join a golf club, what do I need to do?

You will need to provide your membership number to your new golf club so that they can transfer your playing history and Handicap Index. Your new club will then request the release of your record from iGolf.

Your record will always remain attached to your unique membership number. No golf club should provide you with a new membership number.

Q: I am unhappy with my subscription. Can I get a refund?
